

In the 10th anniversary of the The Durban FilmMart presents Creative Corner which is a free to public programme taking place at the Tsogo Sun Maharani Hotel, Panini Room. The programme focuses on creative sectors vital to the film motion picture industry. Creative Corner will play host to panel discussions from often forgotten side of the industry while still whilst providing networking, collaboration opportunities and entertainment for members of the public in the hotel area. Making use of local film and television industry experts and creative organizations, the panels focus on creative sectors such as costume, set, sound and make up design. Featuring the crew of some of South Africa's biggest television shows.

The Durban Film Mart has partnered with the Writers Guild of South Africa in an innovative new programme this year that aims to support scriptwriting in development. Over the of the DFM programme, projects will be given an opportunity to will have the opportunity to present excerpts of their screenplays to industry delegates in hour- long sessions incorporating: an introduction by the writer, a script excerpt of 15 minutes, performed by local actors, a Q&A and feedback session with the audience. The programme will feature in-development and production-ready feature film projects from South African writers.
